

London

Applications / Further Information

If you are interested in being considered for a role in the London loans practice at Cahill, or you would like to receive more details or benefits information, please contact our Director of Administration, Brenda Smith at bsmith@cahill.com. All direct applicants should also apply by email to Brenda Smith.

Associate - Regulatory Licensing (Digital Assets & Financial Services)

Cahill, Gordon, & Reindel (UK) LLP is seeking a lawyer with a strong background in financial services and capital markets, with a passion for digital assets and innovative technologies. You'll work on regulatory matters within the EU & UK frameworks, particularly on regulatory authorization processes for clients.

Key Responsibilities

- Provide regulatory support and advice under EU frameworks such as the Markets in Crypto-Assets Regulation (MiCA), Markets in Financial Instruments Directive II (MiFID II), the Payment Services Directive II (PSD II) and Electronic Money Directive II (EMD II)
- Provide regulatory support and advice under the corresponding UK frameworks
- Act as the liaison person between the client and the relevant competent authority
- Manage and supervise the regulatory approval processes throughout
- Draft and review agreements, policies, procedures, and other client-requested documentation including those pertinent to regulatory approval processes

Qualifications & Skills

- Current residence in London
- Background in financial services and capital markets, both educational and professional
- Demonstrable passion for practicing in the emerging field of digital assets law
- Excellent drafting skills and ability to produce legally complete documents, policies, procedure, and reports
- Strong client relationship management and effective communication across various channels

If you're passionate about the evolving legal landscape of digital assets and seeking a role where you can make a significant impact, we'd like to hear from you.

Applications from search firms or staffing agencies will not be accepted at this time.

Banking and Capital Markets - Counsel

We are seeking English Law qualified solicitors for a counsel position in Cahill's London office for our Banking & Capital Markets practice group. Candidates should have at least seven years of post-qualification experience in bank lending work, with substantial exposure to syndicated leverage finance transactions. Experience in acquisition finance and related commitment processes as well as intercreditor arrangements is preferable.

Location: London

Required Qualifications:

- English qualified lawyer holding the necessary practice certificate
- Seven years post-qualification experience

-
- Excellent oral and written English communication skills and a strong academic background

This is an excellent opportunity to join a market-leading leveraged finance practice.

More information about Cahill's Banking and Capital Markets practice can be found here.

More information about our firm can be found here.

About Cahill's Capital Markets & Lending Practice

To learn more about our market-leading leveraged finance practice, please click here.