Cahill partner Helene Banks spoke on the “Portfolios with a Purpose: ESG Investing” panel at the 8th Annual ACG NY Women of Leadership Summit on Thursday, April 22. Cahill is a proud sponsor of this event, which is designed for women leaders in the global, middle-market M&A community.

This year’s gathering focused on how women are shifting their professional direction in a challenging environment, while simultaneously balancing their private lives. The forum provided insightful speakers, one-on-one dealmaker meetings, curated networking, ideas exchange and discussion of shared experiences. Attendees of the ACG NY WOL Summit were able to gain new connections and uncover new business opportunities.

As chair of Cahill’s M&A and Corporate Advisory practice groups, Helene advises companies, founders, boards and special committees, private equity firms and their portfolio companies and family offices across a variety of industries in connection with mergers, acquisitions and other strategic transactions, as well as corporate governance, compliance and disclosure matters.
