Cahill was a proud sponsor of the ACG WOL Summit, which is designed for women leaders in the global, middle-market M&A community.

This year's summit, "What Got Us Here – Won't Get Us There," focused on the ways women leaders can use effective leadership to change not just processes, but people, and to think creatively to drive value. The forum provides a space for attendees to hear from insightful speakers, gain new connections, and uncover new business opportunities.
