
Samson Enzer Speaks at S&P Global's "Managing Crypto with Confidence" Series

Monday, June 6, 2022 2:00 PM to Thursday, January 1, 1970 12:00 AM

On Monday, June 6, counsel Samson Enzer spoke on the "Knowing Your Customer in the New Cryptocurrency World" webinar, part of S&P Global's Cryptocurrency series. The panel discussed the varying ways that firms engaging and transacting with digital assets can minimize the possibilities of misuse of finance and money laundering and protect their platform from bad actors.

The webinars in the Cryptocurrency series explore the opportunities for investors and institutions interested in the cryptocurrency market while discussing the potential risks that may result from a nascent and disparate infrastructure, combined with the decentralized nature of crypto assets.
