
CahillNXT Partners to Speak at CoinDesk's Consensus 2025 Conference

Wednesday, May 14, 2025 4:00 AM to Thursday, May 15, 2025 4:00 AM

CahillNXT practice co-chairs Sam Enzer and Lewis Cohen will be featured speakers at CoinDesk's Consensus 2025 conference in Toronto.

On May 14, Lewis Cohen will speak on the panel, "Crypto Lawyer Roundtable: Where Does Crypto Regulation Go From Here?," which will take place at 10 a.m. EDT on the Spotlight Stage.

On May 15, Lewis Cohen will speak on the panel, "Bridging the Divide: DeFi and the New Financial Convergence," with Sam Enzer serving as the session moderator. The panel will evaluate the growing convergence between decentralized protocols and established financial systems, highlighting how legal, technological, and regulatory frameworks are adapting to this shift. The discussion will take place at 11:15 a.m. EDT on the Builders Stage.

Consensus is the world's largest, longest-running, and most influential gathering that brings together all sides of the cryptocurrency, blockchain, and Web3 community to analyze the industry's most pivotal matters.
