Lewis Rinaudo Cohen, partner and co-chair of CahillNXT, joined Phantom CEO Brandon Millman and Solana Policy Institute President Kristin Smith on a recent podcast to discuss recent developments in digital asset regulation.

The conversation focused on newly issued guidance from the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC) regarding the application of federal securities laws to crypto assets, as well as the potential implications for market participants.

The discussion covered Nasdaq's proposed tokenized settlement framework, a CFTC no-action letter involving Phantom, legislative developments related to the proposed CLARITY Act and ongoing discussions regarding stablecoin yield.
