
Lewis Rinaudo Cohen and Sam Enzer to speak at Consensus Miami 2026

Wednesday, May 6, 2026 4:00 AM to Tuesday, April 28, 2026 10:58 PM

Lewis Rinaudo Cohen and Sam Enzer, partners and co-chairs in the CahillNXT Digital Assets & Emerging Technology practice, will speak on the Spotlight Stage at Consensus Miami 2026.

Sam will moderate and Lewis will speak on the panel, "Token Activism: The New Frontier of Crypto Governance." Alongside panelists Katie Talati (Arca), Jim Petrila (Dromos Labs), and Christian Lopez (Cohen and Company Capital Markets), this discussion will examine how activist investors are pushing for fee switches, treasury redeployments, and protocol mergers—challenging development companies and translating Wall Street strategies to Web3. This panel will also explore a growing shift of governance disputes into the courtroom.

Consensus, known as the "Super Bowl" of blockchain, brings together the most influential leaders from crypto, finance, tech, and policy to discuss the next era of the global economy.
