
Lewis Rinaudo Cohen Spoke on PIFS' "Agentic Trading" Webinar

Wednesday, September 30, 2026 4:00 AM to Monday, October 12, 2026 5:48 PM

Lewis Rinaudo Cohen, partner and co-chair of CahillNXT, spoke on the webinar "Agentic Trading," hosted by the Program on International Financial Systems (PIFS).

Lewis, along with the other expert panelists, explained what agentic trading is and how it differs from algorithmic and high-frequency trading. They also covered the potential benefits and risks, as well as key opportunities and challenges presented by agentic trading. The webinar defined key terminology, reviewed current market trends, and considered whether policy and regulation need to adapt.

The webinar was designed for PIFS' international alumni network of financial regulators.
