

Cahill Sponsors Legal Outreach Interns

Date: 07/30/08

Cahill recently sponsored four high school students as part of the internship program designed by Legal Outreach that places motivated tenth grade students from underserved communities into law firms and companies. The program is intended to expose the students to professional practices and professionals who can support their aspirations and enhance their desire to pursue higher education and professional careers.