
Cahill Represents Lingo Management in Acquisition of BullsEye Telecom, Inc.

Date: 08/23/22

Cahill represented Lingo Management (“Lingo”), a leading global business cloud communications and managed services provider based in Atlanta, Georgia, in its acquisition of BullsEye Telecom, Inc. (“BullsEye”), a top-tier single-source, cloud communications and technology service provider based in Southfield, Michigan. The completion of the acquisition makes the combined company one of the largest single-source providers of cloud communications and managed services for business and carrier customers with over $200 million in annual revenue, and enables the combined companies to increase service levels with a broad array of products to a larger number of customers.

The Cahill team representing Lingo includes partner and chair of Cahill’s communications practice group Chérie R. Kiser and communications counsel Angela F. Collins.
