

---

Cahill Represents Boston Mayor Michelle Wu in Congressional Sanctuary City Hearing

Date: 03/07/25

A Cahill team was retained by Boston Mayor Michelle Wu in preparation for her March 5 Congressional hearing before the House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform, as part of its investigation into so-called sanctuary cities.

D.C. Office Head and Congressional Investigations Practice Chair Edward C. O'Callaghan, who led the Cahill team, provided advice from his seat directly behind the mayor for the duration of the hearing. In addition to days long hearing prep, Cahill's role consists of ongoing work related to the committee investigation and responding to the Committee's demand for documents on behalf of the Mayor and the City of Boston.

Wu's appearance before the Committee – along with the mayors of Chicago, Denver, and New York – received widespread local and national media coverage in outlets including Associated Press, The New York Times, Reuters, The Washington Post, and The Boston Globe, among others. See below for links to the coverage.

- Associated Press - Republicans hammer mayors of Boston, Chicago, Denver and New York over 'sanctuary city' policies
- The Boston Globe - 'Give 'em hell Michelle': Mayor Wu stayed calm and combative during her first congressional hearing on immigration
- The New York Times - G.O.P. Representatives and Democratic Mayors Spar Over Sanctuary Cities
- Reuters - US mayors defend 'sanctuary city' laws protecting migrants in congressional hearing
- The Washington Post - Democratic mayors face withering attacks on 'sanctuary city' policies
- Bloomberg - How Sanctuary Cities Are Fighting Trump, Again
- The Wall Street Journal - Mayors Tell Congress Pro-Immigrant Policies Reduced Crime

---

Attorney

- Edward C. O'Callaghan