Cahill Adds Sneha Jha as Private Credit Partner in New York

Date: 09/22/25

Cahill today announced that Sneha Jha has joined the firm's New York office as a partner in our growing Private Credit Group.

"Coming from a market-leading private credit lender, Sneha brings an insider's perspective to private credit transactions. Clients routinely tell us they deeply appreciate our ability to stand in their shoes, and enjoy working with Cahill lawyers who understand their goals and objectives in structuring and closing a transaction," said Herbert Washer, Chair of Cahill's Executive Committee. "Sneha's hire is another important milestone in our continued effort to grow our private credit practice."

She joins from Golub Capital, where she structured and negotiated private credit transactions including LBOs, cross border deals, refinancings, and restructurings.

"Having spent decades at Cahill, I've seen our Private Credit Group grow into one of the most dynamic areas of the firm," said John Papachristos, partner and co-head of Cahill's Private Credit Group. "Bringing Sneha on board is another milestone in that evolution. She offers real first-hand insight into how private credit lenders think and invest, which will be an invaluable asset to our clients."

Overall, Sneha has more than fifteen years of experience representing predominately lenders in complex financing transactions including private credit, syndicated leveraged finance, restructuring, and project finance. She began her career as an associate in the banking practice of a leading global firm, where she worked on some of the first private credit deals.

"Coming from an institutional asset manager myself, I know that her experience will be invaluable to our private credit clients, who will also appreciate her attention to detail and razor sharp intellect," said Peter Williams, partner and co-head of Cahill's Private Credit Group. "Her 360° perspective will further strengthen the team we've worked hard to build and she fits right into Cahill's culture. She is not only a highly skilled lawyer, but also a terrific colleague."

"Cahill has advised on some of the largest and most sophisticated leveraged finance deals since the advent of leveraged finance markets. Its focus on top-notch lender representation work is a natural fit for my experience and client focus," said Sneha. "I am excited to return to private practice and use my unique business-side perspective and deep appreciation of the investment process gained at Golub—a defining player in the private credit markets—to deliver the highest quality advice to our clients."
