Cahill Represents Lead Arrangers in Quaker Houghton's $550 Million Credit Facility

Date: 10/01/26

Cahill represented the lead arrangers in connection with a new $550 million term B credit facility for Quaker Chemical Corporation, doing business as Quaker Houghton.

Proceeds from the credit facility will be used to refinance existing credit.

Quaker Houghton is the global leader in industrial process fluids with operations in over 25 countries. The company develops, produces, and markets a broad range of formulated chemical specialty products, and offers chemical management services.

Attorneys

- Adam M. Dworkin
- Biagio A. Marino
- Luisa Marin
- Olivia W. Baruch
- Arrington Brendle

Practice

- Banking & Finance