The New York Law Journal has named Douglas Horowitz to its list of 50 "Rising Star" attorneys who are 40 years old or younger, and have made an impression on their colleagues, clients, and the larger legal community.

Rising Star honorees were vetted and ranked by a panel of 24 judges based on demonstration of "the finest qualities of a good lawyer: first-rate legal skills, preparation, judgment, creativity, dedication and ethics." The New York Law Journal reports honorees are "likely to be among the next generation of bar leaders," and "it is expected that many of the lawyers featured in this section will use their gifts and opportunities to work with their colleagues to address challenges facing the profession and to improve the lives of those in the communities served by members of the New York bar."
