
Ariel Goldman Featured in Bloomberg Law's "They've Got Next" Series

Date: 09/02/21

Partner Ariel Goldman was profiled by Bloomberg Law as part of their "They've Got Next" series, which highlights the work of rising stars of the bar across a range of practices. The eighth installment notes Ariel as one of five young lawyers to know in the world of banking and finance. These attorneys scored successful outcomes for clients seeking to structure complex financing and secure regulatory approval in mergers and acquisitions, restructurings and other high-stakes matters.

Click here to read Ariel's profile, which discusses why he pursued law, the challenges and successes he experienced during the COVID-19 pandemic representing banks in leveraged buyouts, recapitalization, debt and equity offerings and other corporate finance transactions, and how he spends his time outside of work.

Attorney

- Ariel Goldman