Cahill partner Tammy Roy has been named to Benchmark Litigation's inaugural 2016 "Under 40 Hot List," which honors the achievements of the nation's most accomplished legal partners who are 40 years old or younger. A partner in Cahill's litigation group, Tammy's practice is focused on the defense of complex securities and commercial matters. Most recently, Tammy has represented Standard & Poor's in civil lawsuits around the United States arising out of its rating of structured finance securities, including securities backed by subprime mortgages. Tammy was selected through a process of peer review and case examination conducted by Benchmark Litigation. Published by Euromoney Institutional Investor PLC, and focused exclusively on the U.S. litigation market, Benchmark Litigation's rankings and editorials are the result of extensive interviews with private practice lawyers and in-house counsel.
