

Outrage builds after Equifax executives banked $2 million in stock sales following data breach

Date: 09/08/17

In this article in The Washington Post, Cahill senior counsel Bart Friedman comments on the investigation that Equifax's board will need to undertake in the wake of the news of Equifax executives selling stock before the company's security breach became public.

External Link: Outrage builds after Equifax executives banked \$2 million in stock sales following data breach

Attorney

- Bart Friedman

CAHILL GORDON & REINDEL LLP