
European Leveraged Finance

Cahill's London-based practice advises global financial institutions, companies, and sponsors and their affiliated funds on European and cross-border transactions as well as US transactions for Europe-based companies.

"The exceptional Jeremy Duffy brings a wealth of knowledge to any transaction he works on." - The Legal 500 UK, Acquisition Finance

"Jeremy is very commercial, pragmatic, sensible, he cuts through complexity and he gets things done." - Chambers UK, Leveraged Finance: Big Ticket

"Jeremy is our go-to lawyer for larger and more complex deals.... He is unmatched in responsiveness and commercial pragmatism." - Chambers Global, Banking & Finance

With our London office opening in 2000, Cahill has advised clients in Europe for nearly a century on some of the most complex, high-profile and ground-breaking transactional matters, often spanning multiple jurisdictions.

Our London practice is built upon decades of English law lending and New York law capital markets and lending experience, advising clients on sophisticated transactions spanning leveraged finance including broadly syndicated loans and private credit, investment grade finance and securities, high-yield securities and restructurings.

Cahill's global team has been ranked #1 or 2 legal adviser to underwriters of U.S. high yield bond offerings by volume each year since 2005 and as #1 legal adviser to lead arrangers of U.S. leveraged loans each year since 2010 (Bloomberg, Refinitiv Loan Connector) For two consecutive years, Cahill has been named a Practice Group of the Year by Law360 for its work globally across leveraged finance and private credit.
