
Supreme Court Reverses Price Discrimination Award

Date: 01/26/06

Source: The New York Law Journal. Reprinted with permission.

The Supreme Court ruled that the Robinson-Patman Act's price discrimination provisions did not prohibit charging different wholesale prices to heavy-duty truck dealers unless they were competing to resell the trucks to the same customers.

Attorney

- Elai Katz