

Utility Merger Ruled Immune From FTC Challenge

Date: 05/24/07

Source: The New York Law Journal. Reprinted with permission.

A district court has rejected the Federal Trade Commission's motion to halt the combination of natural gas distributors in Pennsylvania that had been approved by the state public utility commission. The European Commission has approved the acquisition of an aircraft engine component supplier by a "dominant" aircraft engine manufacturer.