

Hawaiian Airlines, Inc. v. Mesa Air Group: Breach of Confidentiality Agreement Leads to $80 Million Judgment

Date: 11/06/07

The recent decision of a United States Bankruptcy Court holding a potential investor liable for a breach of a confidentiality agreement and awarding $80 million in damages to the plaintiff for such breach serves as a dramatic reminder of the importance of strictly adhering to the terms of these commonplace agreements.