Jason Schwartz Authors “Crypto for Charity: What U.S. Donors Should Know”

Date: 08/15/25

Cahill partner Jason Schwartz authored “Crypto for Charity: What U.S. Donors Should Know,” which was published by DeFi Education Fund.

In the article, Jason explains that individuals who have long-term appreciated cryptocurrency can donate tokens directly to charitable organizations, which in some situations allows them to eliminate capital gains tax while also receiving a fair market value deduction.
