
Brian Markley, Christopher Arkin, and Jennifer Potts Publish “Anti-Corruption Compliance and Enforcement Risks in the Digital Assets Space” in Global Investigations Review

Date: 08/22/25

Cahill partner Brian Markley and counsel Christopher Arkin and Jennifer Potts authored “Anti-Corruption Compliance and Enforcement Risks in the Digital Assets Space,” which was published by Global Investigations Review (GIR).

The article explores anti-corruption compliance and enforcement within the digital assets space and expectations going forward. It also focuses on the enforcement priorities of the Trump administration and the wider anti-corruption environment affecting digital asset companies, providing guidance and recommendations to reduce potential risks.

To read the full article, click here.

Attorneys

- Brian T. Markley
- Christopher A. Arkin
- Jennifer Potts